

REPRESENTATIVE FOR CHILDREN AND YOUTH

Wilma Clarke

As Director of Advocacy, Aboriginal and Community Relations Wilma Clarke leads advocacy services at the Representative's three offices in Victoria, Burnaby and Prince George. She joined the Representative's Office in April 2008.

She brings to her position 20 years in the BC public service including positions as a social worker, manager of anti-racism programs, manager of education and communications for the Human Rights Commission and director of operations for the Centre for Safe Schools and Communities, the Centre for Non-Profit Development and the Centre for Social Responsibility.

She has her BA and MA from Simon Fraser University where the emphasis of her studies was on multiculturalism, human rights, child welfare and social justice issues.